SUGGESTED ACTION:

Consider request from Family Treatment Court for a professional services agreement with The Wings of the Dragonfly to provide drug treatment and counseling services.

FACTS AND ISSUES:

The Family Treatment Court is an intervention program for parents or caregivers involved in dependency cases as a result of substance abuse. It is a collaborative effort between the Juvenile Court staff, Special Assistant Attorney General, parent attorney(s), child attorney(s)/GAL, treatment providers, law enforcement, Department of Family and Children Services (DFACS) and Court Appointed Special Advocate (CASA).

The Family Treatment Court is a court specifically designed and staffed to support the needs of the child, parent and family members in reunification.

The Wings of the Dragonfly is recommended for award as the new treatment provider. Funding is provided by State Grant Funds and County Drug Abuse and Treatment Education (DATE) Funds.
