Background:

Proposed Ordinance Amendments

To provide greater flexibility and improve the long-term administration of the Stormwater Utility Program, staff is proposing amendments to Chapter 9 of the City Code. The proposed amendments include:

- Updating the ERU definition from 4,489 square feet to 4,838 square feet based upon the consultant's impervious area analysis.
- Establishing that residential ERUs and stormwater assessment methodologies may be established and modified by City Council resolution rather than requiring future code amendments.
- Maintaining non-residential assessments based upon measured impervious area divided by the updated ERU value of 4,838 square feet.
- Authorizing the City Council to annually establish and modify the ERU rate by resolution as part of the annual assessment process.
- Revising the annual inflationary adjustment methodology by replacing the Consumer Price Index (CPI-U Miami/Fort Lauderdale) with the Engineering News Record (ENR) Construction Cost Index. The ENR index more closely reflects changes in construction, maintenance, rehabilitation, and infrastructure replacement costs associated with operating a stormwater utility system.
